RENO EVENING GAZETTE.
Washoe County Official Press.
RENO, WASHOE COUNTY, NEVADA
TUESDAY..... MAY 28, 1878.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENT.
C. W. CRANE, 428 Montgomery street, is sole Agent for the GAZETTE, authorized to contract and collect for advertisements. Advertisers are requested to leave orders with Mr. CRANE, as no other agents will be recognized in San Francisco.

OUR POSITION.

We have never said much about the GAZETTE or what it proposed to do, preferring to let its course speak, but it seems necessary at this time to make a few remarks; they shall be brief and to the point. Our contemporary has seen fit after opposing the first grand jury's report to take no side in the present emergency. It might have been easier for us had we adopted the same course. Such, however, has never been our disposition and believing that we are right, and with the people, we shall stay there. Not quietly and negatively, with oil for the wounded and whitewash for the smutted, but with whatever vim and ability we possess to defend the right. That is what we mean, what we have done and what we shall continue to do, notwithstanding anybody's likes or dislikes.

We have two distinct objects in view, the vindication of honest men, and the protection of tax-payers. We shall go directly toward them, and we shall reach both. If anybody gets in the way we shall step on him.

We have been warned that we have no right to construe a man's public acts, and the warning was couched on four different occasions in threatening words. We have been advised that we shall have no opinion upon the effect of a public act, but must go and ask what was intended. We shall do no such thing. If any man is incapacitated mentally from saying what he means when serious matters are under discussion, he had better keep his seat. If his own acts place him in a false light it is his fault, not ours. We shall always aim to be just and impartial. In matters of individual interests we always consult persons; when the public is concerned, we shall judge for ourselves. We have stated the objects which the GAZETTE seeks as the people's representative; if any officer or his friend is in the road he must step out, and as for going to any man to learn what we shall think or say upon public affairs, we beg to assure the officers and their friends, that the man's father has not yet been married.

THE APPORTIONMENT.

The Ward Reflex intimates that a judicial job was put up for Eureka at the late apportionment of delegates to the Republican State Convention. That paper says:

Eureka county can trot out her man for District Judge, for opposition from White Pine and Lincoln would be worse than useless, seeing that Eureka has fifteen out of twenty-seven delegates on whom will devolve the duty of nominating a District Judge.

We do not believe, considering the harmony which characterized proceedings at the committee meeting, that jobs were considered at all. Of course there will always be more or less complaint in such cases. Counties which have lost inhabitants do not relish the loss of delegates as well, and are apt to depreciate the growth of fortunate neighbors. There can be no doubt that Eureka, Washoe and Elko have been the three growing counties in the State during the past two years. The remaining sections have lost rather than gained. If Eureka has more inhabitants than White Pine and Lincoln, which is certainly true, the apportionment should follow that fact. A like increase was of course appropriate in the cases of Elko, Washoe and every other growing section. Such complaints as that made by the Ward Reflex can have no good effect, and only serve to divide friends of the party.

It is stated that the project of holding a congress of Socialists at Gotha will be abandoned in consequence of the expectation that the government intends to vigorously enforce the existing press and sedition laws. The Saxon authorities have closed the Socialist meetings at Chemnitz. The Russian government has ordered the prosecution of five Socialistic journals for the publication of articles on Hoedel's attempt to assassinate the Emperor.

CONDITION OF CALIFORNIA.

The California wine trade is increasing. Salmon are plentiful in the Sacramento. The shrimp harvest has been light this year.

Foundries, wagonmakers and brewers drive a good trade.

Beet culture attracts much attention on the Russian river.

Favorable crop reports come from San Joaquin, Colusa and El Dorado counties.

The wool crop of Los Angeles will fall short fifty per cent. The quality is better.

Flax culture is successful in Los Angeles county. The seed is worth $70 per ton.

The nectar yielded by the Eucalyptus globulus makes very wholesome bee food.

Water ditches for irrigation purposes are worth more than the farms in the foot-hills.

The press and people are engrossed in the Constitutional Convention fight. Pledges are in demand.

The wheat crop in Sutter county will be inferior in quality and quantity to that of former years.

In the House yesterday a bill was introduced by Wood to establish a permanent sinking fund. It provides that there shall be appropriated for the fiscal year commencing July, 1878, and for each succeeding year, out of custom revenues the sum of $100,000,000 which shall be applied: First, to pay the interest on the public debt; second, to the redemption of purchase of so much of the outstanding principal of the public debt as can be purchased or redeemed at not more than par and accrued interest. All bonds so purchased or redeemed to cease to bear interest and to be canceled and destroyed. It abrogates the act providing for an annual sinking fund. Section five of the bill provides that the act shall be known as the Sinking Fund act of 1878.

A CRAZY LOVER.—A dispatch from Mendota, under date of May 27th, says:

News reaches here of an atrocious murder committed at Arlington, a small town nine miles west of this place, on Sunday. Sam, Carney, a young man who had been refused permission to visit Miss Cullenbine, a young lady of his acquaintance, went to her room last evening and cut her throat with a razor, shot her with a revolver, and being met by Mr. and Mrs. Cullenbine on his way down stairs, he shot the father in the hip, cut Mrs. Cullenbine severely with a butcher knife, and rushing out into the yard drew a razor across his own throat several times and expired almost instantly. The parents are severely but not fatally hurt. The daughter lived but a few minutes.

In the Senate Monday Beck introduced a bill to repeal existing taxes on the capital and deposits of banks and bankers, and to impose taxes on dividends in excess of eight per cent.

The Russian government has decided to abolish jury trials in cases of assassination for political motives and acts of violence against officials.

Journalists.

A piercing cold wind has blown from the west all day.

Elsewhere will be found the disolution notice of J. P. & G. W. Foulks. The latter retires from the firm.

D. E. McCarthy, boss ink-slinger of the Virginia Chronicle, was in town last night. Also J. P. Foulks, of Verdi.

The preliminary examination of Harry Dougan was held to-day in the Justice Court. The case continues as we go to press.

The case of Gilson and Barber vs. Price, was concluded this afternoon and will be given to the jury between six and seven o'clock this evening.

The Essex shingle mill will start up next week. The saw mill will start up in about two months and the wood mill in about two weeks.

The old awning over several stores on the east side of Virginia street is being removed and a new one will be placed in its stead.

Closing exercises of the Eastern term at the Episcopal Seminary tomorrow. Reception in the evening. The interested public is invited.

Our local on Uncle Josh missed publication yesterday, but a large house greeted Thompson, and those who witnessed the excellent entertainment are loud in its praise.

The theme of absorbing interest on the streets to-day is the tax-payers meetings, and what is said in them and what is proposed. All manner of opinions are expressed.

Mr. I. Frederick has made a charming gold medal as a first prize for the best scholar at St. Mary's convent. This medal is on exhibit in Mr. Frederick's show window.

PERSONAL.—R. M. Kelley, an old resident of Belmont, and County Superintendent of Schools for Nye county, was in Reno Monday. He came by private conveyance to Wadsworth, and from there by train. Mr. K. has a daughter at school here, and comes to attend the closing exercises. Franklin, the fast freight man, was also in our midst, as it were. He has gone to Carson.

NEW GOODS.—Messrs. Grey & Isaacs inform the lady public that about the first of next month their new and elegant stock of dry goods, both from San Francisco and the East, will arrive. This we regard as most pleasing intelligence for the ladies.

TAX-PAYERS' MEETING CONTINUED.

H. H. Beck Concludes His Speech—And Deposits with the Chairman $1000 Gold to Defray Expenses of a Suit Should the County Lose.

The court-room was crowded again with citizens who came pursuant to the adjournment from Friday evening last. Chairman Duck called the meeting to order.

Mr. Soderberg rose to his feet and in a half audible and rather unmusical voice then proceeded to read a pile of papers from his own pen. A portion of the audience thought it was the transcript of the Rover case, and others took it for spring poetry. It proved, however, to be Mr. Soderberg's resignation as secretary, together with elaborate reasons why the audience should not accept it. Mr. Soderberg testified to his own mental and moral worth in a way which caused much joy among the audience, and wound up with promising that if the officers are guilty he would use his vote together with all his influence in prosecuting them to the end—we think he said to the bitter end. The audience seeing that this promise settled the entire business, were naturally anxious to retain Mr. S., and his apology was accordingly accepted.

After the intense excitement which was occasioned by Mr. Soderberg's composition had partially died away Mr. Beck again took the floor. He stated that, having consumed so much time, and knowing that some were anxious to hear the other side, he would not assert his right to the floor, in case the officers were ready to reply to charges already made. Mr. Webster offered to reply for Mr. Lamb. Mr. Beck asked leave to speak of Mr. Lamb first himself. The speaker said that Mr. Lamb had in his knowledge shown a disposition to right every wrong, and that since the reports he had changed the conduct of his office in conformity with all good suggestions. Mr. Beck, however, referred to one or two charges made by the Sheriff, one of which Mr. Young, deputy, admitted should have been struck out, when he said, "Why, anybody could see that with their mouth."

And yet the County Commissioners allowed those things. Of course they did; allowed everything; if you were only a friend of the ring you might bring on your bills. The Clerk was again taken up by the speaker, and Mr. Beck was glad to state his belief that Comstock was not dishonest, but had been led into bad ways by bad advisers—"A Judas behind him, there he is, (pointing to Major Mann) and the County Commissioners before him luring him on." These officers had slandered the grand jurors and their reports. "It was a trick of old Beck's." "They were all lead by one man." "They were all sore-headed politicians." "They were reptiles instead of birds and flowers." Malevolence instead of benevolence." All these things had been charged and were utterly false, because the grand jurors, on their sworn oaths, were extremely sorry to report such a state of facts. The officials believed they had squelched the first report, and now together with all their friends they sit down on the second also. After enduring a large quantity of abuse the grand jurors had determined to vindicate themselves, and in order to prove that they were not actuated by malice Mr. Beck handed Chairman Duck a check for $1000, gold. This sum was to assist the county in defraying the expenses of the suit in case the officers were proven right. If the case was presented as it should be, here was $1000 to assist in defraying expenses if the fees complained of were legal. [Applause.] Mr. Beck claimed one-fourth interest in the check.

The speaker wanted to know why there was so much opposition to investigation and why such underhanded means had been adopted for the purpose of stifling it?

Major Mann interrupted Mr. Beck to say that the Clerk had desired investigation, and pledged himself to refund all moneys received from the county in excess of his dues.

Mr. Beck—"Yes, the officers may have changed their minds."

Major Mann—"The Clerk has always been in favor of investigation and has declared it publicly."

Mr. Beck—"Yes, the officers said that we could have $20,000 worth of lawsuit if we wanted, unless this thing was stopped."

Mr. Mann—"Who is your authority for this statement?"

The speaker called Mr. C. A. Bragg.

Mr. Bragg—"Mr. Hymers, Mr. Alexander, and myself, were talking about these matters. Hymers said, as I approached, 'Here comes another one' to exult. I disclaimed any desire to exult. Mr. Hymers, in our talk, said that the county should pay for this matter if it took $20,000."

Mr. Hymers—"Yes I was in favor investigation; did not care what it cost, 'Why was there no investigation, Ed. GAZETTE."

Mr. Bragg insisted that Hymers intended the grand jury report should be a cost to the county.

Mr. Beck resumed by asking whether it was fair or honest, for Mr. Hymers to call five bondsmen on a grand jury to investigate the Treasurer's affairs. "Bender, Beck, Boynton, Manning and Norcross."

Hymers—"I never thought of it at all; had no such intent."

Mr. Beck—"It is your business to know these things."

Mr. Beck, continuing said that the last grand jury was called to white-wash the first. He touched upon the caless way in which the Commissioners did business. Mr. Hymers was, to a great degree responsible for this, because he was an old Commissioner and presumed to understand his business. The Commissioners had debauched the County Treasurer, and but for their loose way of doing business, the name of B. B. Norton would be bright to-day.

The Commissioners had personally procured the payment of bills before they were audited or allowed. Referred to bill of Chas. Norris, bills for railroad tickets, &c., &c. "You could not get a bill allowed like that, fellow citizens, nor could I."

Hymers—"How do you know—you never tried."

Beck—"Well I couldn't now, anyway, could I?" [Laughter and Applause.]

Mr. Beck then stated that although he had many other things to speak of, he would neglect them at least for the present. In defense of himself, Mr. Beck said that to say "This is only a trick of old Beck's," proved nothing. If they wanted to make him responsible, he would be there when they called. He did not want them to cry old Beck on one side and grand jury on the other. The grand jury wanted a fair prosecution of their offenses, and Beck was in hearty sympathy with them.

Major Mann here stated that Beck was wrong, and he would prove it. Mr. Comstock would refund every dollar illegally collected.

Mr. Comstock—"That's correct."

Mr. Webster then took the floor and said that he and Mr. Julian had examined Sheriff Lamb's books, and he would make a statement. He believed that the grand jury did what they believed to be right. [This will please the grand jury.]

On motion the meeting adjourned. Major Mann and Mr. Webster will probably speak to-night, and District Attorney Cain promises that he will sum up matters in a brief and impersonal speech at the close. The interest in the meeting seems to be increasing.

Public Schools.

In company with Rev. S. P. Kelley, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, your reporter visited the public schools this morning. In Mr. Ring's room a class in arithmetic and one in algebra were heard. In arithmetic those who heard recited did not evince as thorough a comprehension of the principles of proportion in which the lesson lay, as we had reason to expect. The class in algebra made an excellent showing, and evidently understand the subject taught. In Mr. Cantrell's room we found much better order maintained, than on our last visit. Miss Emery's room was next invaded. There we found perfect order, but the little ones were not quite as proficient as we anticipated. They were of course somewhat embarrassed, and being with the Superintendent, we may be in too critical a humor. We are liable to those attacks. Miss Gibbs presides with conscientious care and diligent application. Her little ones are progressing, as in other departments, in a satisfactory manner. Miss G. is quite a talker in the school-room, and perhaps might marshal her juveniles more successfully did she belabor these innocents less with that busy member of the genus woman. In Miss McNeeley's room, the first primary, we found 63 young mischiefs. Here is where we looked more at the children than gave attention to the recitations. A hundred little pranks were so innocently performed. Of course Miss McNeeley thought we believed that her flock was terribly misbehaving but we did not. They were too cunning in look and action to be ill-thought of by anyone, and we could not expect these undisciplined little ones to be like old folks and diligently study their a b c's, d-o-g dog, c-a-t cat etc., when visitors were in the room. It was not a little amusing to note their efforts to behave, but especially to see that their companions should not violate any rule of the school. Up would go a hand and then we would hear "Teacher, John Brown's got out his flipper" etc.

Mrs. Bourne, the assistant of Mr. Ring and Mr. Cantrell, conducted a class in reading during our stay in her small room. She has a pleasant method of instructing, and we would infer is a successful teacher.

One can visit our schools and find fault here and there, but we think they compare most favorably with other public schools of this State. Of course the rooms are not the best and are over-crowded, particularly in Miss Gibbs and Miss McNeeley's departments. School will close for the term on the 28th of next month.

MAPLE'S CONDITION.—Ed Maples, the man who was shot by Harry Dougan, is yet in a critical condition. Dr. Bishop found a fifth wound on Maples, three or days after he was taken to the county hospital. This wound is a very slight one, however. One of the shots fired by Dougan made a slight cut in the left ankle of Maples. Dr. Bishop says that it will be at least twenty days before he can tell whether the wounded man will live or not.

NARROW ESCAPE.—A little daughter of a family residing on Front street near the school-house had a narrow escape from being drowned this forenoon. She fell in the large water ditch, this side of the bridge and floated down the ditch a distance of more than 100 yards. She was fortunately discovered by Mr. Hammersmith and taken out just in time to save her life.

Private Medical Institute.

209, KEARNEY STREET, SAN FRANCISCO. Established in 1854.

For the Permanent Cure of all Special and Chronic Diseases, as also all Female Complaints and Diseases of the Nervous System.

THE IMMENSE DESTRUCTION of human life annually from secret and chronic diseases, caused this old and reliable institution to be established, first in Philadelphia, Penn., in 1850, and afterwards in San Francisco, Cal., in 1854, as a private dispensary, in order to afford the afflicted the best medical and surgical treatment, for the above and all other affections and complaints. Consultation at the Institute, or by letter, FREE.

To the Afflicted:

Dr. L. J. Czapkay would most respectfully inform the public of the Pacific coast that, at the earnest solicitation of his numerous friends, and hundreds of those unfortunately afflicted with disease, he has reopened his MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE and resumed the practice of his profession. The Doctor would remind all those who are in need of medical aid, that since relinquishing his extensive and successful practice in San Francisco, he has visited the principal cities in Europe, inspecting diligently the experience of the most learned in the profession, the benefit from which he offers to all in need of his services. Rheumatic affections, chronic catarrh, diseases of the stomach and kidneys, liver complaints, etc., successfully treated. Those who are suffering from the cramps and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, physical and mental debility, are assured of a permanent cure. Charges moderate. All communication strictly confidential. Medicines sent by express.
